

NAMEEC Best Practice Awards

These awards recognize best practices—ideas or processes that can be implemented by NAMEEC members. It is anticipated that individuals will nominate their own projects/processes for these awards.

Requirements for nominees

- Submitter must work for a NAMEEC member organization (see www.NAMEEC-ASSN.org for a membership list); individual members are not eligible to receive a NAMEEC Best Practice Award.
- If your organization joins NAMEEC by December 1st, 2019 you are eligible to submit.
- Nominated activity or project must be:
 - innovative and creative
 - based on evidence of adult learning
 - compliant with any/all relevant regulations/guidelines
 - applicable to other NAMEEC members and the CME community at large
- One or more NAMEEC-member organizations must be involved in the planning and execution of the project to be considered.
- Nomination must be in the form of a letter not more than 4 pages long (2 short appendices, e.g., a form, photo, or document, are allowed as attachments).
- Nominees must agree to share their winning ideas with other organizations (i.e., prepare a short report for posting on the NAMEEC website and distribution at NAMEEC exhibits/events; article for the Almanac or other relevant publication).
- Nominations can be submitted in one category per activity.
- Ongoing activities are eligible for submission.
- Nominations that do not conform to the Award Criteria and/or Requirements will not be considered by the Awards Committee.
- Activities can be submitted for nomination in one category per year. If activities span more than one year, they can be nominated in separate categories in separate years.
- Companies can submit separate nominations in separate categories during the same year.
- Past recipients of the Brian P. Russell Exemplary CME Professional Award are ineligible for nomination in that category.
- Award recipients must agree to discuss their activity during the NAMEEC Annual Meeting, to be held during the ACEHP Conference being held in San Francisco, California January 8-11, 2020. The date and time for the Awards ceremony will be announced at a later date.

- Award recipients will be able to upload a video about their activities on the NAMEEC website

Best Practice Awards Winners receive

- Plaque naming the winning organization(s) and the award category
- $150 credit to be applied towards the winning organization's 2020 NAMEEC membership renewal
- Posting on NAMEEC website, press releases on related organizations' websites

Best Practice Awards topics and criteria

- Best Practice in Enduring Material Educational Design and Evaluation. The design should meet identified needs and learning preferences of the target audience, be interactive, apply adult learning principles, and facilitate assessment of outcomes in terms of Moore's Level 4 or higher.
- Best Practice in Live Activity Educational Design and Evaluation. The design should meet identified needs and learning preferences of the target audience, be interactive, apply adult learning principles, and facilitate assessment of outcomes in terms of Moore's Level 4 or higher.
- Best Practice in Best Practice in CME Outside of the USA (Live or Enduring). Activities can include any certified educational activity in an international setting. Submissions can be for either live or enduring activities. Activities should be based on adult learning principles.
- Best Practice in Collaboration Among CME Stakeholders. Activities could include policies or procedures to facilitate collaboration, or a unique way to collaborate, or illustrate a collaborative partnership with a CME stakeholder
- Best Practice in Learner Outcomes. Activities should clearly demonstrate achievement of the intended learning objectives and produce outcomes at Moore's Levels 5, 6, or 7.
- Best Practice in Innovative Educational Methods. Activities should present evidence of innovative methods for educating an intended audience(s). Audiences may include patients, a single health care profession, multiple health care professions, or a combination of these groups. Examples of activities to be considered include patient education, interprofessional education, use of technology, and other methods used to address the identified needs of the clinical setting and intended target audience(s).
